

MEDIA RELEASE

Sydney – November 3rd 2010

For Immediate Release

Caseflow begins expansion into North America with RBRO

Hot on the heels of a string of new sales and upgrades in several large Australian Law Firms, Caseflow and RBRO Solutions have signed a Reseller Agreement. This new partnership will ensure that the Canadian based organisation will sell, train and support Caseflow in both Canada and the United States (US).

The relationship between RBRO and Caseflow is a logical fit for both organisations. Caseflow delivers an extremely tight integration with Autonomy's iManage Document Management System (DMS) suite and RBRO is one of the premier partners of Autonomy.

Caseflow's tight integration in combination with RBRO's status makes for a compelling relationship. With a comprehensive client list in both Canada and the US, RBRO's clients may all potentially benefit from the Caseflow technology. "We have dealt with each other in the past and so we weren't complete strangers", said Brian Smith, Caseflow President and CEO. "I visited the RBRO headquarters in Toronto and got to meet John, Howard and the team. We then caught up again at ILTA and finalised the details".

As a result, we are pleased to appoint RBRO as a Reseller for the Canadian and US markets. RBRO's local presence and international reputation will merge well with Caseflow's proven track record in Australia.

"We are excited to work with the team at Caseflow and to represent their product in these markets. This is a compelling solution and we look forward to expanding this product to our client base" said John Russell, RBRO Solutions Co-CEO.

About Caseflow

Our company prides itself on being a world class software development organisation focused on providing Law Firms and in house Legal Groups, with the most advanced Case and Matter Management system available today.

Caseflow was first developed in 1992 and since that time has continued to evolve using the latest technology in response to the needs of our clients. The company has its headquarters in Melbourne, Australia.

The software is integrated "out of the box" with the leading IT systems used by major Law Firms around the world. Thousands of users currently use the software to enhance productivity and minimise risk through effective planning and management of deadlines. Whether you require a fully automated system to handle commodity legal services or an enterprise-wide document drafting and assembly system, Caseflow can meet your needs.

Caseflow has a strong history and is a stable and mature product that consistently delivers beyond expectations. Our development team have many decades of collective experience as well as advanced competency in all the latest technologies.

About RBRO

RBRO Solutions was founded by John and Howard Russell, brothers whose vision is to enable Law Firms, Accounting, Corporate, Government, Media markets and Engineering, and Construction (AEC) to capitalize on their use of Enterprise Content Management (ECM) solutions. More importantly, RBRO is enabling these industries to realize business optimization and client satisfaction from dynamic collaborative content management solutions.

To accomplish this, RBRO is committed to providing their clients with not only the best of breed technology solutions, but also the highest level of end-to-end services, integrated software products, customized tools, and plug-ins. RBRO Solutions embodies the goal of "Making ECM Work".

RBRO Solutions is partnered with global leaders specializing in Enterprise Content Management solutions, providing adoptable and scalable improvements in business efficiency and agility. With a sophisticated Document Management Solutions (DMS) platform, companies can grow their business to meet the needs of the ever changing enterprise marketplace.

Contact

Further information about RBRO Solutions is available at www.rbrosolutions.com

Further information about Caseflow is available at www.caseflow.com.au